Science Workshop for Harrisburg Teachers Begins at Junior High

Program Planned Long Before Soviet Sputniks

The clamor of the multitudes for more science in our schools since the Red Sputniks first circled the outer space did not send Harrisburg Public Schools authorities into any hectic state of excitement or confusion.

Nor did the authorities remain in any state of complacency.

Because long before the word that the Russians had sent an earth satellite into outer space which made this country realize the shocking truth that the Communists were ahead of us in some important phases of science, plans were being worked out here for more science in the Harrisburg elementary school system.

Funds Approved By Board
The planning began bearing fruit yesterday when the opening session of a science workshop for local teachers was begun with men from Southern Illinois University in charge.

The workshop idea was not hastily conceived. In January of 1957 SIU announced a program of help to school systems in helping teachers better to present the subject of science to school children.

Russell Malan, superintendent of the Harrisburg Public Schools, wrote Dean Grinnell of the College of Education, SIU, that same month declaring that if workshop personnel was available, he would like to take advantage of the help.

In May Mr. Malan discussed the project with Dr. T. R. Ragsdale of the College of Education and the matter was developed to such an extent that he asked the Public Schools board of education for an appropriation to handle the workshop, which he got, and yesterday the first such workshop under the sponsorship and guidance of SIU was begun right here in Harrisburg.

No College Credit
Forty-seven teachers of pupils ranging from kindergarten through the sixth grade and Edward Bell, science teacher at Junior high school, were present to see and hear Dr. Ragsdale and Dr. C. M. Brown get the course, which will meet on Wednesdays for 10 or 12 weeks, get started. They will get no college credit for what they learn, only a better approach to teaching things of science to young minds.

"I like to think of science as a tool with which I'm working," said Dr. Brown to the group. "I want to feel like a cabinet maker; it's the finished product that's the important thing."

He said he wanted to lead boys and girls with science rather than teach science to boys and girls.

"This science we're trying to teach scares a lot of people and children will ask us things that will stump us," he continued. "But science is a common sense explanation of what things are. Anybody who comes and wants to know 'why, how and what' is a scientist. In social studies we ask 'who, when and where?'"

Declaring that "science offers the

Communists Suggest Scandinavian Site for East-West Summit Talks

LONDON (AP) — Communist diplomats suggested today that an East-West summit conference should be held in a Scandinavian country, possibly in Stockholm, the capital of neutral Sweden.

The sources were not inclined to believe the United States favors a top-level meeting, but they expressed belief America's NATO allies might prevail over Washington's reluctance.

Pressure on the United States to agree to meet the Russians was building up in Paris where the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's permanent council met Wednesday to discuss the situation. It set another meeting for Friday.

The NATO meetings were called to consider Allied replies to the flurry of letters sent out in December by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to NATO members. Most of the nations were holding back to see what the United States planned to reply. The

Change Ward 3 Polling Place for Tuesday Election

A change has been announced for the polling place for residents in Ward 3 in the special election next Tuesday.

Instead of the Cummins building, balloting will be done in the F. N. "Buck" Russell plumbing shop at 9 West Church street just across Church from the Cummins building.

Ward 3 comprises the area lying west of the middle line of South Main street, south of the middle line of West Poplar street, north of the middle line of West Raymond street, extending west to the city limits.

GOP to Name 2 Candidates for Representative

The Republican State Representative committee of the 59th district voted to nominate two GOP candidates for state representative from the district at a meeting held last night at Nick's 45 restaurant here.

For years the Republicans have nominated two for the April primary. Three representatives are elected from each district.

Today is the last day for party representative committees to meet and organize. They have until Jan. 25 to fix by resolution the number to be nominated, but the 59th district GOP group took care of this business at last night's organization meeting.

Elected chairman of the eight-county committee was W. K. (Tim) Turner of Harrisburg, the Saline county committeeman. John V. Oldani of Herrin, the Williamson county committeeman, was elected vice chairman, and Howard M. Miller of Metropolis, Massac county committeeman, was elected secretary.

Other committeemen attending were C. B. Kaylor of Cave-in-Rock, representing Hardin county; L. V. Lawrence of Ozark, representing Johnson county; and Clarence Casper of Golconda, representing Pope county. The other counties of the district are Gallatin and Hamilton.

Exchange Vows Over Telephone To Formosa

OLATHE, Kan. (AP) — A 47-year-old widow married her late husband's best friend Wednesday night by telephone to Formosa.

The bride, Mrs. Helen Hudelson, exchanged vows with W. M. Harrison in Taipei, Formosa, in a five-minute double telephone ceremony conducted from the Hudelson home here by Presbyterian Minister Theodore Speduto.

Mrs. Hudelson wore a pink wedding dress and held a bouquet of pink roses for the wedding which took place at 8 p. m. It was 10 a. m. Thursday in Formosa.

Harrison, proposed to Mrs. Hudelson last summer when he was in Olathe between assignments as an American information officer. It was his second marriage and the bride's third. She was born in Harrison, Ark., and lives on Harrison Street here.

Harrison and Mrs. Hudelson's husband, Gordon who died in 1943, had worked together on the Kansas City Star.

Mrs. Hudelson made all arrangements for the telephone wedding. About 20 persons attended the ceremony here.

Consular officials and two old friends of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Long of Carbondale, Ill., witnessed the Taipei end of it. An informal reception followed there.

Motion to Cut Airport Board Salaries Fails

A resolution designed to cut down on compensation to commissioners serving on the Harrisburg-Raleigh Airport Authority died for want of a second to the motion at a meeting held Tuesday night.

The resolution was presented by Harley Shepherd, Harrisburg, appointed to the board in December.

It called for $15 a month for the chairman, secretary and treasurer and $10 per month for other commissioners.

The resolution said that since initial work has been done at the airport and that apparently much less work will be required of the members, the resolution was being offered in order that future tax levies may be reduced, thereby resulting in a substantial savings to the taxpayers of Harrisburg and Raleigh townships.

Besides setting salaries, the resolution set mileage compensation at eight cents per mile, provided for reimbursement for lodging and dining expenses, and called for legal services on an hourly or contract basis.

A fire run was made at 5 p. m. Wednesday to the home of Mrs. Sarah Parks, 615 North Jackson street, where melting soap boiled over in a kettle and caught fire.

PICK AT MONEY REQUEST—Defense Secretary Neil McElroy was called before the House Military Appropriations subcommittee in Washington as Congress sailed into President Eisenhower's first post-Sputnik emergency defense request for $1,260,000,000. ## Wanted to Pay Debts

Illinois Businessman Shocks His Community, Admits Bank Holdup

MORRIS, Ill. (AP) — A prominent businessman and school board member has shocked this small community by admitting he held up a nearby Seneca bank to get out of debt.

Maynard Davis, 47, a father of three sons, turned himself in to the Grundy County sheriff Wednesday afternoon, about 24 hours after the $964 armed holdup of the Community State Bank.

"My conscience wouldn't let me sleep," Sheriff John E. G. Olson quoted Davis. The suspect said he felt authorities were "moving in on me" and "I was afraid I would get caught."

Authorities recovered $757 of the loot. Davis said he used about $200 to pay a debt.

Davis was turned over to the custody of federal authorities and he was to be arraigned in Chicago before U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike.

Davis came from a well-known family in this community of about 8,000 southwest of Chicago. He is a painting contractor and three of his brothers are local political figures.

The admitted bandit drove by a sheriff's roadblock and received a back road into a snowdrift, but away because he was considered above suspicion.

Olson said Davis passed him at a road block shortly after the holdup, but he waved him on after recognizing Davis. The sheriff said Davis' car also did not match the description of the one used in the robbery.

Later, Davis' car skidded on a back road into a snowdrift, but farmer Howard Nolan pulled him out with a tractor and Davis paid

Illinois Democrats Name Lohman, Wilkins Candidates for Two State Offices

CHICAGO (AP) — Barring upset, the ballot in November will give the voter in Illinois these choices: For state treasurer: Louis E. Beckman, Republican, vs. Joseph D. Lohman, Democrat.

For state superintendent of public instruction: Gerald W. Smith, Republican, vs. George T. Wilkins, Democrat.

With action by the Democratic Party here Wednesday, the endorsement of candidates by each party for the two statewide offices was completed.

A harmony meeting of three strong groups of state Democrats chose Lohman, scholar and sheriff of Cook County, and Wilkins, Madison County school superintendent. Test in April.

The Republican leadership ratified Gov. Stratton's choices Tuesday with endorsements of Beckman, a state representative from Kankakee, and Smith, Elmwood Park school superintendent.

Says Differences Between the Armed Services Must Stop

President Urges Russian People to Join U. S. in Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today that America's defense machinery must be reorganized to stop feuding between the armed services in the missile era.

The Soviet threat to the free world grows daily, he said.

The chief executive in his State of the Union message outlined an eight-point "imperative" program for waging "total peace" and, at the same time, overtaking Russia in the field of rockets and missiles.

The President also used the occasion to direct this message to the American people to the Russian people: Join us immediately in the reduction of world tensions and move toward "a genuine peace."

However, until the leaders of the Soviet Union show some signs of sincerely cooperating with the West, America must remain strong. And maintenance of this strength, he said, undoubtedly would involve new sacrifices by the American people.

Differences Must Stop

On the subject of defense reorganization he was blunt and sharply worded, saying that "harmful service rivalries" must be ended, and quickly.

The former five-star general said that whatever the differences between the armed services, "America wants them stopped."

He said he would take executive action to reorganize the defense set up partly, and would send Congress a special message soon recommending legislative steps to finish the job of curing organizational

Diefenbach Rites At Shawneetown Friday at 2 p. m.

The funeral of William Diefenbach, 45, who died in his home at Shawneetown Wednesday, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown. The Rev. Rey Pady, Mt. Vernon, will officiate and burial will be in the Lindale Memorial Gardens.

Mr. Diefenbach was the son of the late Louis Diefenbach, who preceded him in death in July, 1944, and Mrs. Louis (Clara) Diefenbach, Harrisburg, who survives. He is also survived by his wife, Mae, and daughter, Janie, in the Shawneetown home and the following brothers and sisters: Walter Diefenbach and Norman Diefenbach, Joliet, Henry Diefenbach and Curtis Diefenbach, New Baden, Edward Diefenbach, Pana, Mrs. Virgil (Nina) McIntosh, Keego Harbor, Mich., Mrs. L. J. (Louise) Woolard, Eldorado, Mrs. James (Jeanette) Clayton, Joliet, Mrs. Myrtle Ward and Mrs. Glen (Eva) Hancock, both of Harrisburg.

defects in the armed services. The President said war could be deterred by maintenance of heavy strength in American military services.

But the free world faces "a different kind of war—one that has already been launched against us."

Can Keep Proper Defense
"It is the massive economic offense that has been mounted by the Communist imperialists against free nations," he said.

To cut the American overseas aid program "would be nothing less than reckless folly," he said.

He admitted that Russia was ahead of this country in some scientific fields, primarily in missiles, but he was confident that with wisdom and sacrifice this country could maintain a proper defense position.

The President delivered the message in person to a jam-packed joint session of the House and Senate.

The message aroused greater congressional anticipation than any presidential message in recent years. Until a few hours before he set out for Capitol Hill, he made revisions in the document. This was the President's longest speech—about 35 minutes—since he suffered his mild stroke Nov. 25. His 8-point program:

His "imperative" eight-point program:

—Defense reorganization. He cracked down on the armed services by reminding them that their "basic allegiance" is to the United States and not to one individual service.

—Accelerated defense efforts. This category included improvement in the early warning system in case of attack, expansion and dispersal of Strategic Air Command bases, faster work on long-range missiles, and the construction of nuclear-powered submarines and cruisers to maintain freedom of the seas.

—Strengthening, rather than reducing this country's program of mutual military and economic assistance to friendly nations.

—A five-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act "with broadened authority to negotiate."

—Legislation to permit greater exchange of American nuclear secrets with friendly allies.

—A one-billion-dollar, federal

Navy Doubles Spending On Polaris Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy today threw into high gear its submarine-launched Polaris missile.

It doubled the funds being spent on the high-priority weapon project while Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy reportedly backed before Congress a proposal to start constructing at once three subs to carry it.

The 1,500-mile Polaris intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) is regarded as potentially one of the most deadly to be added to the nation's arsenal because of its maneuverability.

It also is the only large missile in an advanced stage of development believed to employ a solid fuel. Some military experts feel eventually nearly all missiles could be switched to the higher potency solid propellants if the Polaris is successful.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. reported Wednesday the new Polaris program would amount to some 130 million dollars. This is almost double the 62 million dollars already awarded the project, it said.

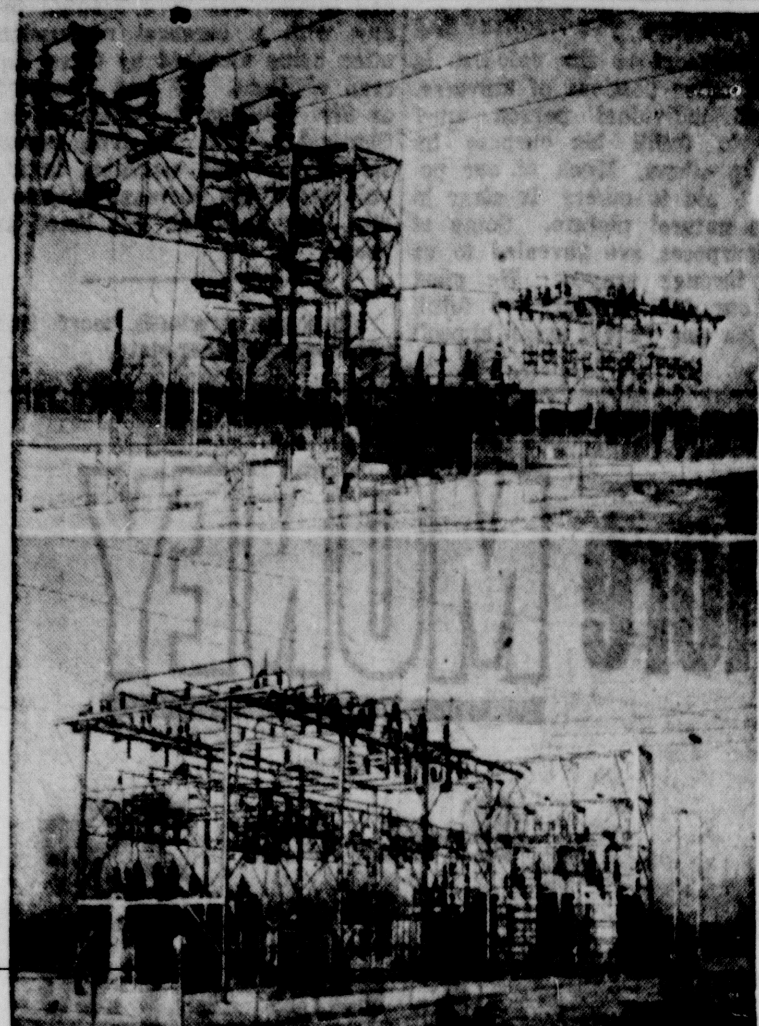

Lockheed, prime contractor of Polaris, said the effect of the money — once okayed by Congress — would be to "move up all dates in all areas of the missile's development to match the Navy's revised target dates on the entire Polaris weapon system."

It is expected to be ready by 1960 or sooner.

HELPING TO PROVIDE ample power to meet the steadily increasing requirements in the area are (top photo) the new 115,000-kilowatt substation at Orville and (lower photo) the greatly enlarged 50,000-kilowatt substation near the community of Crab Orchard. The six new 20-foot high transformers required a total of 25,200 gallons of cooling oil. Materials used in building the two substations included five tons of reinforcing steel, 35 tons of structural steel and enough concrete to fill a hole 18 feet square and 18 feet deep.

CIPS Expansion Program Provides Additional Power for This Area

The Central Illinois Public Service Co. announced this week that a new substation and another greatly enlarged substation have been placed in full capacity operation to provide additional power for the Carbondale-Marion-Harrisburg area.

W. A. Luecke, Marion, southern division manager for CIPS, said completion of the new facilities was part of the company's multi-million dollar expansion program in 1957. He said they will provide ample power to meet the steadily increasing requirements in the area.

The new facilities include:

1. Construction of a new 30,000-kilowatt substation just south of the Orville plant area to serve that rapidly growing industrial center.
2. Increasing the capacity of the substation near the community of Crab Orchard to 50,000 kilowatts. The substation serves Marion, and coal mines in the area, as well as providing an emergency power supply for Harrisburg and Carbondale.
3. Increasing the voltage of the transmission line extending from CIPS' Grand Tower power station to its Crab Orchard substation from 69,000 volts to 138,000 volts.

Luecke explained that the transmission line operating at higher voltage and the new substation facilities will enable the area concerned to benefit from the added generating capacity which is being installed at the company's Grand Tower station. A new 100,000-kilowatt unit is being installed at this station, and will be placed in operation early in 1958.

The new substation at Orville, in addition to providing ample power for the industrial area, also will furnish emergency power for the cities of Marion, Herrin, Carbondale, Johnston City and Carbondale. Both of the new substations will step the transmission line voltage down from 138,000 volts to 34,500 volts for distribution to the communities and industries.

In 1953, CIPS constructed approximately 57 miles of transmission lines from Grand Tower to Muddy. The line was designed for ultimate 138,000-volt operation, but was operated temporarily at 69,000 volts because the power requirements heretofore did not justify operating the line at the higher voltage.

The section of the line from Crab Orchard substation to Muddy will continue to operate at 69,000 volts until additional capacity is required in the Muddy area. At Muddy, the line ties in with major transmission lines and substations extending from CIPS' West Frankfort substation and its power station at Hutonsville.

Building the two new substations, required about 10 months' work, and included installation of six huge transformers. Each of the transformers is over 20 feet high—nearly as tall as a two-story building. Three of them weigh 45 tons each, and the other three each weigh 39 tons.

Walk Gives Clue To Personality

IOWA CITY, Ia. — Dr. — Your walk gives a clue to your personality, says a college student who has studied the subject.

"A person's walk is as individual as his personality. People often make judgments about you on the basis of your gait," said Kathryn Luttgens, University of Iowa graduate student.

She made a study of walking came up with these hints:

- Start with good posture. Leg action should begin from the hip with an easy swing forward of the thigh, she said.
- Point your foot straight ahead. Transfer weight from the heel to the outside and the ball of the foot.
- Take smaller steps if you wear high heels, she said, and do not balance on your heels.
- Finally, relax. When muscles are tense, steps become shorter.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. John 15:13.

No nation ever became great without the devotion of her sons. Millions of mothers lay down their lives one day at a time for their children. Philanthropists have done that for cities, for communities, for churches. No one ever found happiness by merely getting.

Happy Birthday to UP

Our felicitations go at year's end to the United Press, one of America's great news-gathering organizations, upon the completion of 50 years of growth in a highly competitive field of activity.

Few readers of newspapers realize the intense rivalry between the two great news services of the country, the United Press and the Associated Press, nor the effect which this rivalry has had in speeding and bettering news reports available to them. However, some fascinating inside stories documenting that rivalry are now available in a book written by Joe Alex Morris, himself a veteran of the press association school of journalism, entitled "Deadline Every Minute."

If "Deadline Every Minute" leans a little heavily toward UP exploits, it has its counterpart in a book produced some years ago by Oliver Gramling, "AP, the Story of News."

The hard school of press association competition has produced a special breed of reporters and American newspapers in general — and through them you, the reader — have benefitted greatly by their efforts to be first and best with the news of every corner of this globe.

It is an interesting speculation that in the next 50 years the UP and AP will be meeting their deadlines every minute from stations or even planets in outer space. We hope that this fantastic half century will have another Joe Alex Morris to chronicle it as interestingly as the first has done with the past 50 years.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Another Shakeup Due For Eisenhower Missile Czar; Government Scrutinizes Income Taxes Of Frankie Costello Jurors; Police - State Methods Used Against Ex-King Of Gambling World.

WASHINGTON. — Another important purge is due in the Eisenhower guided missile department. This time it's missile czar William Holaday who is getting out.

To replace him, the administration is trying to entice Carter Burgess, former assistant secretary of defense and former president of Trans World Airlines. Burgess had a good record in both the Defense Department and TWA, but finally crossed wires with TWA owner Howard Hughes.

Holaday's exit will climax a steady stream of missile experts who have either resigned or been fired or otherwise come a cropper in the Eisenhower administration. The others are:

1. Trevor Gardner, missile executive for the Air Force who resigned in protest against the Eisenhower administration's slow missile progress.
2. Col. John Nickerson, who protested against alleged favoritism to General Motors by Secretary of Defense Wilson and was court-martialed.
3. Eger V. Murphree, special assistant for missiles, who also exited. Murphree had been in charge of Esso Standard Oil's gasoline experiments with the Nazi cartel, I. G. Farben, before Pearl Harbor at the time Standard Oil conspired with I. G. Farben to withhold vital important gasoline patents from the U. S. A.
4. Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, top Army missile expert who has just resigned in protest over missile matters.

Note — Dr. James Killian of Massachusetts Institute of Technology was appointed by Eisenhower supposedly with full power to direct and correlate the missile program. A few days later it became known that missile czar Holaday disputed this.

FRANKIE COSTELLO AND TAXES

A new police-state method of using income taxes to pry into the lives of prospective jury members has New York attorneys up in arms.

Income taxes are supposed to be sacred and private. It is a penitentiary offense for any tax official to leak information regarding tax returns. Up until the time of Senator McCarthy's investigations this also applied to other government agencies.

However, when Frank Costello, onetime king of the gambling world, came up for trial for income-tax evasion in New York, his attorney, alert Edward Bennett Williams, suspected that the government had been probing into the tax records of jurors. He asked some blunt questions, and U. S. District Judge Francis X. McGohey ruled that he could get the answers—despite strenuous objections by government attorneys.

Williams found that the Justice Department had asked the Treasury for the tax returns of 200 prospective federal jurors and examined them to see whether they were favorable to the government, whether they had high or low incomes, etc. On the basis of these returns, government attorneys classified prospective jurors and managed to select for the jury eight favorable to the government. The jury convicted Costello.

Costello is now appealing on three grounds: 1, that his wires were tapped for three years; 2, that the jury had its income taxes looked into by the government; 3, that a mail cover was placed on his mail for the purpose of interviewing anyone who wrote him a letter.

The New York Bar Association has now filed a brief supporting Costello in his appeal. New York lawyers point out that if a jury is under income-tax scrutiny it is likely to feel intimidated and vote with the government for a conviction.

Note—This writer was probably the first newspaperman to expose some of Frankie Costello's operations back in 1945. Since then Costello has been convicted on several counts. However, 1 for one do not believe he should

Pleads Innocent to 2 Driving Charges Following Accident

D. J. Boyd of Maunee was picked up by State Trooper Mike Taggart following a minor accident that occurred near the Texaco service station on Route 13 at Junction about 8:00 p. m. Saturday. He was charged with drunken driving and illegal transportation of liquor.

Boyd allegedly collided with a pickup truck owned by Louis Logan which was parked in the driveway at the service station. The mishap occurred as Boyd pulled off the highway.

The defendant appeared before Gallatin County Judge Joe Hale Monday and pleaded not guilty to the charges. He was released on posting $1,000 bond returnable at the next regular jury session of county court.

August Crawford, also of Maunee, who was a passenger of Boyd's was fined $5.00 in the court of Bob Wright, Shawneetown police magistrate, for drunkenness.

Pedestrian Deaths Drop, AAA Reports

Pedestrian traffic deaths in Illinois have dropped 55 per cent since 1940 despite record increases in the state population and motor vehicle registrations, the Auto Club of Egypt announced today.

Warren H. Leberman, manager, said that pedestrian fatalities fell from 922 in 1940 to 411 in 1956. During the same period, motor vehicle registrations in Illinois increased 77 per cent, while the total traffic fatalities reduced a total of 8 per cent. The figures were quoted from "The Pedestrian Problem," an A. A. A. pedestrian program appraisal report to the recent public officials conference sponsored by the President's committee for traffic safety.

The Auto Club emphasized that the state's pedestrian safety record over the past 17 years provides the brightest spot in the entire traffic accident picture. During this period when pedestrian deaths were declining non-pedestrian traffic fatalities rose 23 per cent. Planned pedestrian programs in many of the state's towns and cities were given credit for the drop. Most cities in Illinois have been participating in the A. A. A. pedestrian safety program and will soon report 1957 activities and accomplishments.

On the national level, Mr. Leberman said, the record is equally impressive. Pedestrian deaths have decreased 38 per cent since 1940, while motor vehicle registrations rose 104 per cent and the U. S. population jumped 29 per cent.

Other encouraging facts about the pedestrian record since 1940:

1. Deaths per 100 million vehicle miles dropped 71 per cent—from 4.2 to 1.2.
2. Deaths per 10,000 motor vehicles declined 70 per cent—from 4 to 1.2.

3. Deaths per 100,000 population fell 51 per cent—from 9.6 to 4.7. In spite of the optimistic outlook, Mr. Leberman emphasized that pedestrian deaths still account for more than one-half of all traffic fatalities in cities today. In some of the larger cities, the proportion of pedestrian deaths is much higher. Last year, 123,000 pedestrians were injured on city streets.

Get Polio Shots, Dr. Cross Warns

SPRINGFIELD — State Health Director Dr. Roland R. Cross warned Monday that Illinois children and adults under 40 who are not immunized against polio should get their polio shots as quickly as possible.

The number of persons who have not been immunized against polio in the state is still large enough for the disease to break out in "epidemic proportions" in the next polio season, Cross said.

He warned that polio vaccine now on hand will become outdated in the next two months. Many persons should get their shots this winter, he said.

"Public complacency regarding poliomyelitis is a serious problem," Cross said.

"Surely no parent would wish to take the chance of having his child contract polio when the vaccine is available to prevent it."

Children and persons in the 40 age bracket should be immunized as soon as they can get the vaccine, Cross said.

The state Health Department said it now has enough vaccine for 162,000 shots, and much of the vaccine will become too old to use in the next two months.

There is still sufficient time to complete the series of three shots for immunization before the polio season if the first two are administered now, Cross said.

North Willford Baptist Church Girls' Auxiliary Receive Thanks

The Girls' Auxiliary of the North Willford Baptist church received a letter of thanks from Don and Esther Kim of Los Angeles thanking them for gifts sent for the Korean child: at the Korean Baptist mission at 3418 West Adams Blvd., Los Angeles, 18, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Kim are the missionaries that were chosen by the G. A.'s to receive their Christmas gifts for the Korean children in the Los Angeles mission. The letter was the response for their generosity.

There are about 12 G. A.'s in the North Willford group and they range in age from 9-15 years. They were greatly interested in the characters at the end of the letter which spelled "Don and Esther Kim," written in Korean. Mrs. Leroy Jett is counsellor and Mrs. Elbert Jones is assistant counsellor for the G. A.'s.

Presbyterian Women's Organizations Hold Annual Retreat Wednesday

The annual retreat of the Presbyterian Women's organizations was held in the First Presbyterian church in Harrisburg at 1 p. m. Wednesday. There was a dessert served to the women attending, in the dining room of the church, and Mrs. Paul Shewalter presented an inspiring devotion and prayer. Miss Edith Morrison then invited the women to join her in the church chapel for the program meeting.

Mrs. Dale Sullivan at the organ played "The Hymn of Joy" by Henry Van Dyke as the women entered the chapel. This hymn was the theme of the meeting and was repeated at intervals throughout the program. There were responsive readings and periods of meditation and prayer and Mrs. Sullivan presented the story of the "Hymn of Joy." This was followed by silent meditation, prayer and a hymn before the meeting was dismissed.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Renza Garner, Donna and David; her son, J. L. McDowell, Chicago; Mr. Beltz, at home from his work at Elgin, and Mrs. Julia Ridley, neighbor and friend.

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A 13-min ute, 16 mm., color and sound film showing how Southern Illinois University serves the practical needs of Southern Illinois is now available for distribution.
Copies of the film will be loaned on request to service clubs, civic groups, schools and other organizations. Donald G. Hileman of the University staff is in charge of scheduling the film.
Titled "The People's University," the movie illustrates the diversity of natural resources and occupations in the 31 southern counties of Illinois and shows how the University's program of education, research and service is geared to this "land of contrast."
The SIU movie crew which shot the film visited areas from the Mississippi to the Ohio Rivers and recorded scenes from East St. Louis to Cairo to the Shawnee National Forest.
Hileman said the film would be booked whenever possible on the date selected by local groups. If an SIU faculty member is in the area when the film is shown, arrangements may be made to have him elaborate on the movie's theme or answer questions.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. D'Fenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)
Discouragement sometimes engulfs a human mind until its own questions his purpose for being. "I wish I were dead," he says. "I'm no good. There is no purpose in my existence. No one would miss me if I were gone." The person who reaches this point of futility could well ask himself a few questions: "Why do I become thirsty and drink water?" "Why do I get hungry and eat?"

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois
Thursday, January 9, 1958
Page Five
All of the answers are in the realm of natural processes and the relationships of an ordered universe. God created all trivial parts of the universe with purposes. There is a purpose for each individual person as well as for all other units of creation. When you stop to think of this great purpose you realize that each segment of the universe is to aid other portions of universe. Each individual person must seek to fulfill his purpose by serving others. Much of our potential aid to others is clear in God's natural picture. Some of our purposes are revealed to us only through prayer. We must find our full purpose and fulfill it. No one should wish himself dead.

Peace In Harrisburg

We may have peace in Harrisburg—in our day!

There is no excuse for elected city officials getting along like a bunch of kids fighting at the dinner table.

Harrisburg is a grownup town and Harrisburg does all right, too. We have a good town—good to live in—worth scrapping for.

It takes courage to stand up and say this, but I am the one who has been called upon in the past to undertake some of the difficult tasks for Harrisburg, and, I say here and now, that we, as a city, are in a messy situation, and I am willing to do my part to straighten it out.

For years, our city government has been the battleground for petty local wars—fought over personal jealousy and envy.

That's not what we're paying for! You are entitled to sensible, sane, cautious procedure in the City Hall.

I have gone to Springfield on several occasions and obtained assistance and information needed locally that no one else would dare ask for.

I can prove by the words of lots of people that I have obtained jobs for many Harrisburg men.

If you want someone with courage to face the situation and bring back again good work and cooperation, vote for me!

If you should elect me councilman, I'll guarantee that you get the straight of everything that comes up in the city hall.

Get Out and Vote!

1,451 Shots in City Schools' Health Clinics

The Harrisburg public schools gave 1,451 shots last fall in seven tetanus toxoid clinics as a part of the school's communicable disease control program. The Egyptian Health Department released the toxoid, local doctors gave the shots, the schools nurse, Mrs. Ethel Mathias, organized the program, the children paid 25c for each shot, although those who could pay shared in the health measure if they were interested.

The teachers recorded the child's participation on his cumulative folder so that in succeeding years an accurate health record will be available to interested persons. At the close of the program the signed consents were returned to the parents so that they, too, could keep a health record and know when their child had tetanus toxoid. In case of injury the attending physician will want to know if the patient has had tetanus toxoid.

Parents are urged to keep a health record of each of their children as a part of the community health program.

Illinois' first deer hunting season in 57 years had amusing aspects, it was revealed by Director Glen D. Palmer of the State Department of Conservation. To establish the official kill figure of 2,038 whitetails, the department sent postal queries to bow and arrow hunters. Here are some of the replies:

"I did not hunt deer during the 1957 bow season."
"I did not kill a deer."
Remarks: "Them that was close enuf was going to fast and them that was standing still was too far away."

"I did hunt deer . . . etc."
"I did not kill . . . etc."
Remarks: "Dammit!"

Once again the Illinois State Fair has been awarded the 50-mile national championship motorcycle race by the American Motorcycle Association.

The race, which draws the top riders in the country, will be run Sunday, Aug. 17, 1958. The 1957 race was the first 50-miler in the history of dirt track racing. The $10,000 prize money made it the richest motorcycle race purse in history.

Illinois production of raw minerals in 1957 dropped to an estimated $603,000,000 from the 1956 all-time high of $621,969,000, according to the State Geological Survey.

Illinois hunters who did satisfy the nimrod urge during the recently closed regular seasons will have two and one-half months of additional shooting preserves in the state, 22 of which are of the daily fee variety.

Director Glen D. Palmer of the state Department of Conservation, which licenses and supervises the areas, reported that an increase of 16 shooting preserve areas this year established the new record of 110. In 1956-57 there were 94 areas, 19 of them open on a daily fee basis.

Shooting preserve seasons run from October 15 through March 15 under the revised game code, and hunters may seek hand-reared pheasant, quail, coturnix, chukar partridge, turkeys and mallards.

Nitroglycerin first was made in 1846 by Ascanio Sobrero, an Italian chemist.

HAND-PICKED for MURDER
By Robert Martin

XXVIII
After a while Wayne Howell spoke, his voice muffled because his hands were still over his face.

"Who?" he said. "Why?"
"I don't know. I found her like that, just now. She was supposed to meet me, but she didn't. So I came here."

"Did you just return from Lakeport?"
"Yes, but—"

"Why wait so long? The library was closed an hour ago."

He took a deep breath and seemed to be fighting for control. "I didn't go to the library. After what you told me, I didn't know what to do. I just drove around for a while. I don't know how long. Then I went to the Harbor House, in the bar, and I had ginger ale. I tried to think things out. I wanted to ask her if what you said was true, but I—I hated to do it. Finally I decided to have it out with her, make her tell the truth."

"Then you believed me?"
He nodded helplessly. "Yes. I didn't want to, but I had to. There have been other things. Little lies I caught her in. I—"

He covered his face again and began to sob, like a child, a pitiful sight.

"Wayne," I began, and stopped. I had the sudden queer sensation that someone was watching me, or maybe it was a small sound. I turned quickly to face the porch.

A voice said, "Hello, Mr. Bennett." The screen door opened and Honey Campbell stepped to the porch. She gazed straight at me, her eyes never wavering toward the chair on the dark end of the porch. She couldn't see Wayne Howell sitting behind me in the living room. But he had heard her, I knew, because his sobbing stopped abruptly. I didn't look around. I was watching Honey Campbell.

"Hello," I said, and stepped aside.

She came straight across the porch into the cottage. I turned, saw that she was again wearing the white shorts and the thin yellow sweater. Wayne Howell was on his feet and staring at her with a shocked expression. "Wayne," she said sharply, "what's wrong?"

He mumbled something and lowered his head, his heavy shoulders shaking, and Honey said, "What?" in the same sharp voice.

I left them then and returned to the porch. Wayne had folded the robe over Sandra's body. The handle of the ice pick made a little tent over her left breast. I turned and started back in, met Honey Campbell in the doorway.

She stared at me for a second, and then moved swiftly to the porch. I stepped inside. Wayne watched me silently, his face contorted. Then it came from the porch, low at first and rising fast, a scream of terror. I jerked my head at Wayne. "Take care of her." It might help if he had something to do, I thought, and I had no desire to nurse a woman with hysterics.

I picked up the phone, asked the operator to get me the sheriff's office. While I waited, Wayne came in carrying the limp form of Honey Campbell. He didn't look at me, but kicked open a bedroom door and went inside, leaving the door half open. A man's voice said in my ear, "Sheriff's Department."

I made it fast—who, when, where. He got excited at first, and then calmed down and became quite efficient and brisk. I answered a couple of questions about the location of the cottage and he said, "Stay there, mister. We'll be right out." The phone banged in my ear.

A light had come on in the bedroom. Wayne had placed Honey on a bed and was bending over her. I lifted the phone again and asked for Chief of Police Campbell, in Lakeport. He answered almost immediately. "Chief," I said, "this is Bennett."

"Yes?" He sounded tired. I told him and ended by saying, "I called the sheriff."

"Good," he said crisply. "He can handle it. . . . An ice pick, you say?"

"Another ice pick. Aren't you coming out?"

"I'm alone and can't leave here. Anyway, it's a county job. I'll talk to the sheriff in the morning."

"All right. I just thought you'd want to know—since it seems to tie in with the murder of Ambrose Lott."

"Not necessarily," he said. I let that ride and said, "Chief, there's something else."

"What?" he snapped. "Your daughter is here, too. She arrived right after I found the body."

"Honey? What's she doing out there?"

"I'm assuming that she wanted to see young Howell."

"Bennett, do me a favor; see that she gets home."

"I will—if the sheriff will let me."

"What do you mean?"

"Chief," I said gently, "this is murder. Your daughter—"

"She had nothing to do with it!" His voice was faintly shrill. "I'm sure she didn't," I said soothingly, and changed the subject. "How's Hugo Howell behaving tonight?"

"Oh, Howell . . . He's asleep."

I replaced the phone and looked up to see Wayne Howell standing in the bedroom doorway.

He looked at me, and the muscles along his firm jaw knotted tightly. "This is all your fault," he said in a low intense voice, "and my father's. He hated Sandra, tried to come between us. And you helped him, like the others he hired. And now she—she's dead. I hope you're satisfied."

City of Aurora, Fed Up with Juvenile Crime, Embarks on 'Get Tough' Policy

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—The city of Aurora, plagued by juvenile crime has embarked on a "get tough" program.

Police Chief Donald F. Curran, his face flushed with anger, put it this way:

"We're fed up with these young hoodlums. These aren't juvenile delinquents. They're juvenile criminals, and they'll be treated like criminals."

"We're fingerprinting them and photographing them and giving their names to the press, regardless of their age."

The "tough" policy was instituted after a recent series of burglaries and automobile thefts, culminated by the shooting of 12-year-old Jimmy Lampson at a state police roadblock near Lexington the day after Christmas.

Wise-Cracked to Prison

Jimmy and a companion, James May, 14, were headed for Missouri in a stolen car only a few hours after Justice of the Peace William H. Wake had ordered them and seven other members of their gang to tour the State Penitentiary as an object lesson.

The tour was held Dec. 30, but Jimmy Lampson missed it. He was lying seriously wounded in Brookway hospital at Bloomington, the pellets from a state trooper's shotgun imbedded in his chest.

Whether the prison trip gave Jimmy's pals any food for thought seemed doubtful. Authorities said the youths "insulted the warden" and wise-cracked their way thru most of the tour.

Instead of being released to their parents, they were taken to the county jail at Geneva to await a hearing on the disposition of their cases.

"As far as the trip to the State Penitentiary is concerned," Curran said, "those kids would have been better off with a trip to the woodshed."

Neither Curran nor Paul Egan, Aurora's controversial and embattled mayor, felt that the city's juvenile problem is unusual. Some disagree with Plan

"I doubt if we have any more delinquency than any other town of 56,000 people," Egan said.

The mayor has learned about juvenile delinquency first hand. "The kids have put sugar in my gas tank, let the air out of my tires and so on," he said. "You might call those pranks. But they set gasoline soaked dummies on fire and shot flaming arrows into my house."

Almost everyone in Aurora blames the parents for juvenile crimes. But not everybody goes along with Curran's "get tough" campaign.

Among the dissenters are some of Aurora's senior citizens, businessmen who meet for lunch at the Elks Club. Most said the cases should be given no publicity.

Young Airman to Spend Week in Space Chamber

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A young airman from New York will enter a three-by-five foot space chamber next month in an attempt to live a week under the same conditions that will face man on his first voyage to the moon.

Airman I-C Donald Farrell, 23, volunteered Wednesday to enter the tiny cubicle at the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base. Officials at Randolph said the cubicle was believed to be the only one of its kind in the world.

Doctors at the School of Aviation Medicine said the six-foot airman would remain in the chamber for a week, seated in a canvas chair. He will be unable to either stand or lie down, and will be completely cut off from the outer world except when food is passed in to him.

Attached to the chamber will be a second small rectangular cubicle which will contain radar, radio and other instruments needed for a voyage into space.

Oxygen supply will be controlled by a special apparatus and chamber pressure will be maintained to simulate flight conditions at 18,000 feet.

The only clothing Farrell will wear during his week-long "trip to the moon" will be regulation trousers and T-shirt. No other clothing will be required because temperatures will be regulated.

Neither pressure suit nor oxygen mask will be included, and Farrell will not be given any kind of medicines. Instrument recordings of blood pressure, respiration and pulse will be made.

During the simulated flight to the moon, Farrell's body wastes will be absorbed by chemicals and moisture excreted from his lungs, sweat glands, and otherwise will be reclaimed and purified for drinking water.

Galesburg All-America City

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—This Illinois corn belt town of 32,000 has been named one of the 11 "All-America" cities of 1957 by the National Municipal League and Look magazine.

Galesburg was honored Wednesday for its civic improvement program, which included a change-over to the city manager type of government, a bond issue for construction of a five-million dollar high school and other school buildings, a new airport due for early completion, and pumping of water from the Mississippi River to the town.

Millinery Workers Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Millinery workers who make most of the hats worn by American women went on strike today for higher pay.

It was the first nationwide strike by the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union in 25 years.

The AFL-CIO union represents 22,000 employees in the 400-million-dollar-a-year women's hat industry. Of these, 8,000 are divided among manufacturers in Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore, Boston and smaller cities in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. About 14,000 work in New York and nearby New Jersey.

Mrs. Anna Echols of Marion Dies; Rites Near Crab Orchard Friday

Friday in the Coal Bank church near Crab Orchard. Rev. Ruth Hayes of West Frankfort will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Echols is survived by her sons, Oral Smiley, Carrier Mills RFD 1, and Bernie Smiley, Marion RFD 2; her sisters, Mrs. Foy Boatright and Mrs. Della Merrell, both of Marion, and her brothers, Troy Murphy and Loren Murphy, both of Pittsburg RFD.

FHA Terms Eased

By United Press
The Federal Housing Administration has eased home buying terms. The agency no longer will require FHA home buyers to pay cash on closing costs of a new dwelling. The agency also is adjusting discounts on the mortgages it insures to spread funds for home financing "more evenly" over the nation.

program over four years to train more science students and teachers.

—A balanced budget for fiscal 1959. In view of sharply increased defense requirements, this will involve some sharp economies in other parts of government. These would include postponement of new civilian programs, outright elimination of some and reducing expenditures on less essential military programs and installations. He said a later message would deal with the national debt ceiling and tax revenues.

—This point was not addressed primarily to Congress, but to the people of the Soviet Union. He said "the world must stop the present plunge toward more and more destructive weapons of war, and turn the corner that will start our steps firmly on the path toward lasting peace."

No Disarmament Change
"This will require more than words of peace," the President said, speaking in effect to the Russians. "It requires works of peace."

Then he invited the Soviet government to join with the West in tangible steps toward peace and international cooperation.

"We will always go the extra mile with anyone on earth if it will bring us nearer a genuine peace," he promised.

The President did not change this country's basic position on disarmament. He invited the Soviets to negotiate anew on the mutual inspection plan Russia rejected in United Nations negotiations last year. The President insisted that any disarmament plan, if it is to bring real promise of peace, must include "reliable means to insure compliance by all."

He left most of the purely domestic questions for discussion in his budget message next Monday. Today, he said, he wanted to stress American "safety through strength" and "the constructive work of building a genuine peace."

Science Workshop For Teachers Begins

greatest challenge to us in history—it's all around us," Dr. Brown listed five problems that would confront the elementary school teacher in presenting the subject to children:

1. Time. Finding the time during the school day to teach the subject is a problem.

2. Space. It is hard to find space to display and experiment and demonstrate in the classroom.

3. Materials.
4. Background of teacher. There is a feeling of inadequacy among many to discuss science.

5. Methods of presentations of materials.
Ways of overcoming these problems will be included in the Wednesday sessions during the forthcoming weeks.

Guardsmen Hope For Strong Finish In Polio March

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—Two National Guardsmen who are on a five-day march to raise March of Dimes funds are banking on a strong finish to reach their goal of $2,000.

Jerry Plasters, 20, and Tom Peavler, 17, collected more than $865 in the first three days of their 102-mile march through four counties.

The West Frankfort guardsmen will hike into their home county today and make stops at Zeigler and Christopher. Friday, they will wind up the march by hiking from Christopher to Benton to West Frankfort.

The guardsmen are holding up well despite sore legs, and the slightly warmer weather today is helping out.

No Individual Contracts With Montgomery-Ward, Price States

More than 500 Montgomery-Ward stores across the nation are still being struck or handbilled by the Retail Clerks International Union Guy Price, Harrisburg, Vice President District No. 1 RCI, announced today.

Mr. Price made the statement in rebuttal to statements that contracts were being completed between Montgomery-Ward and individual stores in various parts of the nation.

Mr. Price declared all contract negotiations were being handled by a national committee representing the Retail Clerks International Association and bargaining would be on a nation-wide basis and no local "sweetheart" deals would be made with Montgomery-Ward.

Hill Addresses

Workshop at SIU

E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Social Security Administration at Harrisburg, was in Carbondale yesterday where he was one of the principal speakers on the workshop held at Southern Illinois University by the college of agriculture and the division of area services.

Mr. Hill discussed social security and its relation to agricultural industries and farm credit. The workshop, which ran through Tuesday and Wednesday, was attended by large groups of interested persons from all areas of Southern Illinois.

Ray Grater of the Harrisburg Production Credit Association participated in the program as a member of a panel which discussed an analysis of farm credit planning.

Cold Threatens Complete Ruin Of Florida Fruit

By United Press
A cold snap settled over the snow-laden East Coast today, putting Florida's billion-dollar citrus industry in danger of complete ruin.

Temperatures plummeted during the night from Maine to Florida, with the most noticeable drops occurring in New England. The U. S. Weather Bureau reported that nighttime temperatures were generally about 20 degrees lower than a day earlier, and that near-zero readings were common.

In northern Florida, where the mercury had already slipped into the dangerous 20s, it was touch-and-go as to whether the wintry blast would snuff out the state's orange, tangerine and fruit industry.

The sudden East Coast snow storm which pounded the area Tuesday night dumped record amounts in some parts of New England, was just about played out early today. Only a few flurries still whipped along the seaboard.

The broad storm belt extended from the Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic Ocean, and weather-caused deaths climbed to near 50. Connecticut counted eight snow deaths alone, and there were other fatalities blamed on snow, cold, ice, home fires and traffic accidents.

The United Press counted at least 44 weather victims since the snow and cold weather hit Tuesday. They included 20 deaths from traffic or heart attacks in New England, 6 in New York and 3 in New Jersey and highway deaths in Pennsylvania, Iowa and Wisconsin. In addition, there were 11 fire victims, 4 in Virginia, 1 in North Carolina and 6 in the Midwest, and an airman died in a Florida plane crash during a rainstorm.

Deny Motion to Acquit Epping

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The prosecution rested its case against Edward A. Epping today and Circuit Judge De Witt S. Crow denied a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

Epping, already serving a term at Menard State Prison for conspiracy in the 1956 Hodge scandal, is on trial for forgery, embezzlement and confidence game in connection with a bogus state check for $11,416 issued by the office of convicted former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge.

Epping's attorney, Robert H. Rice, in arguing for his motion for acquittal said there had not been any evidence presented that the former office manager for Hodge "ever got one cent" of the loot involved in the scandal.

Bull Dogs Play at Benton Friday Night; Rams Here Saturday Evening

The battling Bull Dogs go back to the wars this week-end by traveling to Benton Friday night to meet the Rangers in combat and hosting the Mount Vernon Rams Saturday evening.

Coach John Dotson's Harrisburg crew has been idle—as far as competition goes—since it played Carbondale Dec. 28 in the Egyptian Holiday tournament here. That means it will lack just one day of being two weeks between games.

Coach Ralph Davison has a big and good Ranger outfit, which last Friday night took Centralia into camp for the first Benton conference win of the season. However, like Harrisburg, the Rangers have been giving some good teams fits this year and is the type of team that should improve as the season progresses.

Rams Eighth in State

Enough is known here about Mount Vernon because the Rams (10-1) captured the holiday tournament here by beating strong West Frankfort. The locals will have their hands full. The Rams feature 6-6 Jack Cotter, hot-shooting Andy Changnon and top rebounder Willie Rodgers. Mt. Vernon is listed eighth in the state in the UP poll.

In other South Seven contests this week-end Herrin will be at Mt. Vernon and West Frankfort at Marion Friday night, and Marion at Herrin and Centralia at West Frankfort the following evening.

One of the top games in all Illinois will be the torrid loop encounter Friday night between Herrin at Mt. Vernon, both 3-1 in the conference. It follows last week's outstanding game in the state, when West Frankfort toppled Herrin—the state's No. 1 team, 63-62 at Herrin.

Other Cage Games

Herrin, West Frankfort and Mount Vernon all have been rated among the state's top 15 teams since the ratings commenced. Herrin is 12-1, Frankfort 11-1 and the Rams 10-1.

The relative even strength of the teams is reflected in the 60-56 triumph of West Frankfort over Mount Vernon in league play, with Mount Vernon coming back in the holiday tourney to win over Frankfort, 55-52; and Frankfort, the No. 2 team in the Harrisburg tournament, beating Herrin, the No. 1 team in the Centralia meet, last week.

These are other cage games in southern Illinois this week-end:

Friday: Galatia at Cave-in-Rock, Rosiclare at Equality, Johnston City at Eldorado, Pope County at Ridgway, Flora at Carmi, Fairfield at Salem, Albion at Norris City, Sesser at McLeansboro and Cairo at Metropolis.

Saturday: Galatia at Carrier Mills, Shawneetown at Eisenhower of Decatur, Benton at Johnston City and Zeigler at Vienna.

South Seven standings:

Team	Won	Lost
West Frankfort	4	0
Herrin	3	1
Mount Vernon	3	1
Marion	3	1
Benton	1	4
Centralia	1	4
Harrisburg	0	4

Celtics Trip Lakers 107-87

By United Press

The Boston Celtics have so much all-around talent in the National Basketball Assn. this season that even when stars Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman are having a bad night they still manage to win.

Cousy and Sharman, both of whom average around 25 points per game, didn't even reach that figure between them Wednesday night, but the Celtics won anyway, beating the punchless Minneapolis Lakers, 107-87. Cousy netted 15 points and Sharman's five tallies all were from the foul line.

Elsewhere, the New York Knicks erobbers zipped to an easy 123-105 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in the opening game of a doubleheader at Detroit and the Pistons rallied on Harry Gallatin's basket to edge the Syracuse Nationals, 109-107, in the nightcap. A crowd of only 2,818 turned out for the double feature, the smallest of the season in Detroit.

Evansville Aces Top Small College Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—The Midwest, with the Evansville, Ind., Purple Aces leading the way, dominated the first United Press small college basketball ratings today by supplying the first four of the top 10 teams.

Evansville, coached for the 12th straight season by Arad McCutchan, was rated the nation's No. 1 small college team in balloting by 40 coaches from as many states. They gave the Purple Aces nine first-place votes and a total of 193 points.

The coaches will rate teams from the country's 720 small colleges and universities each week for the United Press. They based their first ballots on games played through Saturday, Jan. 4.

Evansville, twice champion of the Indiana Collegiate Conference during the last three seasons, had a 7-1 record through games of Jan. 4. The school has an enrollment of 1,456 but is a basketball center for the city of Evansville and has a home arena which seats 10,500.

Wheaton, Ill., College won the No. 2 ranking with six first-place votes and 164 points. Steubenville, Ohio, was third with three first-place votes and 145 points. Western Illinois University rounded out the Midwestern grip on the top rankings by placing fourth with three first-place votes and 135 points.

The South placed two teams in the top 10, while the Midlands, East, Southwest and Far West each landed one in the select group.

Southwest Missouri State, which swept its first 10 starts, placed fifth with five first-place votes and 109 points. Tennessee A&I was next with one first-place vote and 106 points. West Virginia Tech, with three first-place votes, was seventh with 102 points.

Louisiana Tech was eighth with 98, Texas Southern was ninth with 87 and Pacific (Wash.) Lutheran was 10th with three first-place votes and 64 points.

Not an Ocean

The Antarctic Ocean no longer is shown on maps because the Antarctic is a continent, not an ocean. Early explorers were led into making this error by the fact that the Antarctic continent is covered with snow and ice.

The assassination of President James A. Garfield in 1881 by a disappointed government job seeker brought public demands for reforms in the way in which federal jobs were filled. These demands led to the passage by Congress of the Civil Service Act of 1883. This law began the separation of federal civil service from party politics, and it was the cornerstone for the present federal merit system.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MEITON

CHURCH LEAGUE BASKETBALL, popular in Harrisburg the past couple of seasons, will again be sponsored by the Harrisburg Ministerial Association.

A committee headed by Rev. William Burroughs, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has been working on the project for several weeks and announces that plans are complete and play will start soon.

Several churches have indicated they will enter teams and others haven't made definite announcements to date.

Rev. Burroughs stated today that Friday, Jan. 10, 9 a. m. had been established as the deadline for entering teams in any of the three age group leagues.

There will be competition for juniors, intermediates and seniors.

Church league basketball has proved very successful in the past and should be again.

Schedules will be made soon and Friday at 9 a. m. is the deadline for making entry in the leagues.

Terry Glover, peppert guard on the Equality high school basketball team, will be out of action for sometime and maybe for the remainder of the season. He is a senior.

During the Christmas holidays Glover was hunting and jumped a ditch. When he began slip he attempted to stop the fall with his left hand. The arm was twisted severely in the elbow and he is wearing a cast from the wrist to about midway between the elbow and shoulder.

Last Saturday night Francis Florian of West Frankfort scored 15 points as the Red Birds won from Eldorado, 74-58. The 15-point production gave Florian a varsity record of 1,148 points, a new West Frankfort record.

Florian broke the record of 1,148 set by Paul Peeler who completed his WF career in 1956. Both Florian and Peeler were four-year varsity performers with the West Frankfort cagers. Florian is basically an outside man, shooting long one-handers. He has a season's average of 47.0.

Don Ohl, Governor Vaughn and Mannie Jackson, all from Edwardsville, are running 1-2-3 in scoring for the University of Illinois basketball team. The three have appeared in all nine games played by the U. of I. and have point totals of 182, 123 and 111.

Two news services, the United Press and the Associated Press, issue state-wide ratings weekly during the basketball season and it is not at all unusual for the ratings to disagree.

This week for example the UP listings had West Frankfort on top and Herrin second. The AP had Herrin first and West Frankfort third.

But either way the South Seven conference is well represented. Many fans will say the South Seven is the toughest basketball league in the state and current ratings sure indicate these fans are so right.

Crosby Tourney Gets Underway

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The $50,000 Bing Crosby national amateur golf competition gets underway today with the big names from the world of entertainment teaming with golf stars—all for the benefit of charity.

While golf is the major item of business, there will be enough entertainment on the fairways to satisfy even the most rabid vaudeville fan.

Boosted from a $15,000 to a $50,000 event this year, the Crosby clambake has attracted just about all the top pros, shooting for a first prize of $4,000 in the pro division and a top of $2,000 in the pro-amateur.

The tourney will be played over 72 holes this year for the first time—with play divided on Cypress Point and Monterey Country Club the first two days and the final 36 holes over Pebble Beach on Saturday and Sunday.

TWO TONS OF HAM—Tony Galento may never make a calendar picture or a shaving cream ad, but the former world heavyweight championship contender most certainly looks the part of the rough character he is playing in a motion picture being filmed in the Florida Everglades. Real tough.
